Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, millions of Americans subscribe to wireless voice and data services, advancing them to a prevalent means of communication in our fast-paced society; and

WHEREAS, personal and public safety are of major concern today, and more than 200,000 emergency calls are made from wireless phones each day; and

WHEREAS, people across our state and nation assist in improving the response times of emergency management personnel by using wireless phones to report crimes and potentially dangerous or life-threatening conditions; and

WHEREAS, public safety agencies, including law enforcement, fire departments, and emergency medical services, use wireless technology in their efforts to protect and serve our communities effectively and efficiently.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim May 24 – 28, 2004, as

WIRELESS SAFETY WEEK

throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians work together to raise awareness of the importance of using wireless technology safely and responsibly while protecting the security of residents across the Palmetto State.
